AN EFFECTUATE LETTER TO A CORRESPONDENT.

Dear Friend:—We are in receipt of our communication with request for publication in the columns of our "valuable paper." We appreciate your interest. The communication is a worthy one, and no doubt costs you much thought and considerable time in its preparation. But, we are sorry to disappoint you. We will not insert the communication for these reasons:

First, the subject is one which cannot be of any interest whatever to more than two or three readers of this paper. The woman whose death you record lived a long way from Tazewell, and was entirely unknown here, and there seems to have been nothing out of the ordinary in her life. She was simply, as you say no less than five times in your letter, "a good woman," like thousands of others who have gone to heaven, and of others who will go. This is a newspaper, and we try to make it such. And, then at the close of your long article you drop into poetry, six long verses, not one of which is real poetry, however, and if it was ever such good poetry, we could not find room for it.

Another reason we must decline to publish the article, is the manner in which it is written. A glance through the pages showed up a large number of words misspelled, an almost entire lack of punctuation and a proper use of capital letters. This may seem a small matter, but remember, that a great deal of time would be necessary to make these corrections. If the article had gone in the paper just as written it would have excited laughter wherever read. Again, it was written with a lead pencil and much of it could scarcely be read. It was dim and in many places illegible. To have put this before an operator on the machine would have delayed him, and it cost something to run a linotype. So, you now have the chief reasons why we cannot publish your communication, and there are other writers for newspapers who may be profited by these desultory remarks.

CURB HIM!

A curb bit and a tighter rein must be put upon our friend, Rev. Jos. Stras. Why? Because he is moving a number of Tazewell's best citizens to Maryland, and other parts of the country. A number of good farmers have left Tazewell, and through Mr. Stras have found homes elsewhere. Well, nobody is to be censured. There are splendid, cheap homes in other sections, far cheaper than the same grade of land can be bought for in this section. Mr. Stras is a member of the firm of Stras & Persinger, the leading real estate men of Roanoke. "Jo." is a native of Tazewell. Everybody knows him and believes what he says, and a Tazewell man wanting a home just "natchally" drifts to Roanoke and applies to "Jo." Persinger and Stras carry an ad in this paper. We don't want Tazewell people to leave, but if they must and will they will make no mistake in consulting Jo. Stras as to where to go.

DEATH OF W. M. PEERY.

William M. Peery, one of the county's oldest citizens, died at his home west of town, following a stroke of apoplexy, on Monday morning last at 2 o'clock.

He arose on Saturday morning as usual, and dressed, when he was suddenly stricken and fell to the floor. He lived until Monday morning, as stated, when he passed away quietly and peacefully.

The funeral and burial took place on Tuesday, conducted by Rev. T. H. Campbell, Rev. Mr. Spring and Rev. T. R. Bolling, taking part in the service. The remains were laid to rest beside those of his wife, who died last January.

He was in the 75th year of his age, had led a quiet life on his farm, and was highly respected. He fought through the war. He met and married his wife, a Miss Wilburn, in Tennessee in November, 1864. He leaves three sons and two daughters—Augustus, Sam and Harry, Mrs. J. W. Buchanan, and Mrs. Dodson, all of whom were present at the funeral.

Decensed was a life-long member of the Baptist church, as was also his wife.

Something Going on Down the Line.

There has been something doing down the line the past week, in the neighborhood of Norton and Wise, and something more promised for tomorrow, July 3rd.

A man named Osborne, a policeman, if reports are correct, was killed at a baseball game the other day. A young man was cut to pieces under the wheels of a train he was attempting to board, and a prominent lady of Norton was attacked by a negro in her home in broad day light, his object being robbery, perhaps. He escaped and has not been caught at this writing.

On tomorrow, July 3rd, a big celebration is scheduled. Governor Stuart is expected to be present and make an address. And furthermore, Arctic explorer Peary, according to a telegram from Norton to the Lynchburg News, will spend the day at Norton, and make an address in The Park. These statements are made upon authority of the newspapers and verbal reports from Mr. John McDonald, representative of the Lynchburg News, who was in Wise and Norton the first of the week, and in Tazewell on Wednesday. If somebody is "a liar" look for him outside the C. V. N. office. Norton is a live town—so is Wise, in a way, and almost anything may be expected to happen down that way, at any time.

DEATH OF JOHN W. CORELL.

The remains of John W. Corell, whose death occurred at his home in Roanoke Wednesday, were brought here on yesterday and interred in Thompson Valley, at the old home burying ground. Besides a widow, deceased leaves three sons and two daughters. He was brother to Mr. J. O. Corell, a well known citizen of Thompson Valley, and brother to the late Andrew Corell, of Poor Valley.

Some years ago Mr. Corell moved his family from Thompson Valley to Giles county, where he engaged in farming. Later he moved to Roanoke and ran a hotel for a time. Owing to his advanced age and declining health, he retired from business several years ago. He was about 80 ears of age.

A brief funeral service was conducted on yesterday by the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Shannon.

Burke's Garden Real Estate Sale.

Simon Kelly, Burke's Garden, was here the other day, and brought the welcome news that he had sold his farm and would move away. The land was purchased by Jo and Robert Meek, the price paid being about $132.00 per acre. These Kelly boys are among our best citizens, and their departure will be regretted. They will buy land in Maryland. There it is again. Advertisements in the Clinch Valley News of Maryland farms, or some other agency, is peopling Maryland with Tazewell people.

MUCH INTEREST IN BRIDGERS MEETING

Great Sermons and Fine Singing! Keeps Church Crowded—Prayer Meetings in Business Houses Each Day.

The Bridgers revival continues with unabated interest. Very large crowds attend each night, and deep interest is manifested. The preaching and singing of Mr. Bridgers holds the attention of the large crowds from first to last. On several occasions the church has been packed to its utmost—chairs have filled the aisles, and numbers have had to stand. On Sunday night at least one hundred and fifty people were unable to get even standing room. One pleasing feature of the meetings is the attendance each night of large numbers of people from the country. The roads are fine, and the wagons, buggies and automobiles have lined the highways. During all last week there was bright moonlight, and travel was easy and pleasant. On several evenings there were parties from Bluefield—special friends and admirers of the Evangelist, who enjoyed his meetings held there early in the year.

PRAYER MEETINGS.

On each day this week, by special request, the business houses of the town were closed from 10 to 11 o'clock, to allow attendance upon morning service. Also, on several afternoons, prayer services were held in private homes in different sections of the town, by the ladies of the church and congregation, and also in several of the business houses. All the services were said to have been of unusual interest, and productive of good.

THE PREACHING OF MR. BRIDGERS.

The sermons of the Evangelist are of the plainest. A great many people do not agree with all he says, of course, but all admit his sincerity and earnestness. Tazewell people are said to be "icy, unresponsive, and indifferent." Perhaps so, but the searching sermons of the week have aroused the people, and few in the number of those who have heard these discourses but have been deeply moved.

On Wednesday evening the services were specially interesting and gratifying. A large number of young people, chiefly Sunday school pupils, went forward, and nearly all of them made a profession of conversion—some of them of tender years, some of them young men. The service lasted until nearly 10:30 o'clock.

"OLD FOLKS" MEETING.

This morning at 10 o'clock a service specially for old people was held. Nearly all the aged ones of the town were present. A committee specially appointed for the purpose, sought out these old folks, and not only gave hearty invitations, but saw to it that conveyances were provided for them, and from the church. The service was peculiarly interesting and comforting to these old people.

The usual number of prayer meetings were held every afternoon in private homes, with a largely increased attendance over last week. The usual service will be held next Sunday morning and evening.

Children Crowd In.

"Every boy and girl in town" was invited to be present at the 10 o'clock service yesterday morning. Mr. Bridgers made an especial appeal on Wednesday night to every one of them in town to be present, and it looked as though they were all there. The service was of special interest.

AUTO WRECK NEAR LEBANON.

A fearful automobile wreck occurred two and one half miles west of Lebanon about 8 o'clock Friday evening, killing Andy Kestner, of Moccasin Gap, Washington county, and slightly injuring chauffeur Arnold Thomas, of Lebanon, and Reynolds Shoemaker, of Hansonville.

Mr. Thomas was returning from Bristol, having gone there the day before with a runaway couple and on his way home picked Mr. Kestner up in Moccasin Gap, who was coming to Lebanon to visit his daughter, Mrs. Phelps, and was later joined at Hansonville by Reynolds Shoemaker. The car belonged to S. Aston and had been loaned to the eloping couple.

The chauffeur, we are told, was drunk or drinking and a short time after passing Hawkins' store control of the steering wheel was lost and the car started to leave the road, when a quick turn of the wheel caused the car to turn bottom side up. The chauffeur was caught under the car with the steering wheel resting on his chest, and Shoemaker, who was thrown clear of the wreck succeeded in getting Thomas out. Mr. Kestner was picked up at the rear of the car and it was at once seen that he was seriously hurt, having a large hole cut in the back of his head that exposed the brain. The wounded man was brought to Lebanon and taken to the home of his daughter, where physicians attended him, removing pieces of bone and taking gravels off the brain. Without regaining consciousness, death resulted twenty hours after the accident.

The deceased was about sixty-seven years old, a splendid man, and being afraid of automobiles this was said to be the second time he had ever ridden in one.

The machine was a Ford touring car and was considerably torn up. One wheel was torn to pieces and the fenders were torn off. It was the same car that was in collision with another car on Lebanon-Cleveland road ten days ago.—Lebanon News.

WIRELESS INSTALLED.

Mr. H. W. Pobst has at last got his wireless outfit installed, but so far the wireless waves that are passing over Tazewell have continued on their journey, and not stooped for an instant. The object of the apparatus is to catch the time as it is flashed from the Government station near Washington, but for some unknown reason the object has not been attained. Dr. Kilby, who understands thoroughly the operation of the wireless is expected back in Tazewell from Norton, where he is visiting, in a few days, and adjust or tune the instrument in proper order. It is possible, Mr. Kilby says, for an expert telegraph operator to catch many wireless messages passing this way. Would it be unreasonable to conclude that in the near future the wireless will furnish Tazewell with the news just as it is happening?

THE RADCLIFFE ATTRACTIONS. BOOSTER CLUB CHAUTAUQUA. DATES—JULY 16, 17, 18, 19.

As stated in last week's paper Tazewell is to be favored again by four days of entertainment by the famous Radcliffe people who gave the community such pleasant and profitable entertainment last summer. The assurance is given that the performances will be better than those of last year, good as those were. The program for each entertainment—3 each day—is being distributed on the streets. The ladies of the town who have the matter in charge make the following announcement:

Only 200 season tickets to the Radcliffe entertainments will be sold.

The ladies of the Tazewell Woman's Club have obligated themselves to pay a fixed sum to secure these entertainments and are selling the season tickets at the reduced price of $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 14 years old, in order to secure a part of this sum in advance. After the 200 tickets have been sold no more can be had at the above price.

These tickets are transferable, and are good for all performances. A dollar and a half season ticket admits one person to a concert and lecture each afternoon and evening, or a total of four performances each day for three days, making twelve performances, an average cost to the purchaser of only twelve and a half cents for each event.

Single tickets, 35 cents afternoons for adults, 25 cents for children. At night, 50 cents for everybody.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

A mass meeting of the Democrats of Tazewell County is hereby called to meet at the Court House on Tuesday, July 13th, 1915, at the hour of 11 a. m., for the purpose of selecting the County Committee to serve for the next two years, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. Given under our hands this June 23th, 1915.

CONTEST WARMING UP.

The contest for the Free Round Trip to the Panama Exposition, or the fine piano, is growing in interest each week. There are several of the candidates making a hard fight. Others don't seem to be busy.

These gifts, absolutely free, are worth considering. It isn't offered that such an opportunity is afforded in the smaller towns. But, listen! If you will get out in the field and do some good, straight, honest work, you are likely to win. Otherwise you are not, unless you have a number of friends to do the work for you. Read the advertisement again. See what it offers and go after the votes.

Haley Saw Burke's Garden.

Dr. Henry T. Haley, the pill-roller at Dr. Jackson's, saw Burke's Garden last Sunday morning, or at least that portion of it that lies along the big road. He motored over to the Garden with Edwards and Stevens, Bluefielders, the party traveling 3-on, there being only one motorcycle. The "mats" ran good until they reached a point near the old mill, when a space band jumped from the elevator and fastened itself in the vice-jaw, and the ejector blade shot out with such force that the magazine turned turtle, and the trio discovered themselves picking each other up in the road. A survey was made and it was discovered that numerous bruises adorned the three, which were attended to by Dr. Haley, who is versed in first-aid to the injured. The cycle was so badly out of commission that a Ford had to be despatched over the mountain to bring them home.

ANOTHER VESSEL GOES TO BOTTOM

German Catch Shipload of War Material for Enemy and Send it to Bottom—Americans Aboard.

Washington, June 30.—The Dominion French liner Armenian, flying the British flag and carrying mules from Newport News, Va., to England, was torpedoed and sunk on Monday night by the German submarine U-38, off Cornwall, England, and nearly a score of American muleteers aboard are reported lost, according to messages received by the state department today from consul John S. Remington, Jr., at Bristol. Twenty-nine men in all were lost and ten injured.

The news created a sensation in official circles, as it was the first case of loss of American lives since the sinking of the Lusitania. The gravity of the incident, however, and the action of the Washington government depends almost entirely upon whether the Armenian was chartered by the British government, and was, in fact, a transport of war, aboard which Americans would sail at their own risk, or whether she was an unarmed merchantman. In the latter case, even though carrying contraband, the ship would have been subjected to visit and search and those aboard transferred to a place of safety before the destruction of the vessel was attempted.

In the absence of official information in these points, officials declined to say what effect the sinking of the vessel would have on pending negotiations between the United States and Germany. Immediately inquiry was directed, however, to Ambassador Page, at London, to secure more details and when Secretary Lansing returns tomorrow Ambassador Gerard will be instructed to inquire of the German admiralty as to its report.

From the messages received it appears that in addition to the torpedo at least one shot was fired from a disappearing rifle. The consul's report said the "wireless" house was taken by the second shot. It was not made clear whether the Armenian was first ordered to halt and resisted capture, requiring a second shot, or whether the submarine attacked without warning. The fact that the number of the submarine was given, indicated that she had come to the surface to make the attack.

Mules are contraband of war, according to all the lists of the belligerents, so there can be no doubt as to the contraband character of the Armenian's cargo. Officials will make an effort to learn, however, whether the vessel was armed and whether she was a part of the British naval forces before the opinion of the state department on the case will be disclosed.

The message from consul Armstrong did not show clearly just how many Americans missing he named twenty muleteers—eight white and twelve negroes—who were unaccounted for, but later telegrams spoke of Dr. J. S. Viso, a Porto Rican, and three negroes as having been picked up by a submarine, and other survivors by a Belgian trawler, and transferred to two British destroyers, which brought them to Bristol.

GERMANY TO CONTINUE SUBMARINE WARFARE.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—More details of the German note were received from Ambassador Gerard today, amplifying his report that it will be favorable.

It is expected Germany will agree to end submarine warfare against unarmed liners from the United States, but will very plainly tell this government that if any attempt is made to get Americans to travel on certain classes of munition-carrying vessels they must do it at their own risk.

Submarine warfare against her enemies is to be continued indefinitely, Germany will tell the United States, but additional precautions, it is stated, already have been taken to prevent attacks upon neutral craft or steamers used in the trans-Atlantic passenger-carrying trade.

The Frye note, made public last night, said:

"The government of the United States is not concerned in any proceedings which the Imperial German government may wish to take on other claims of neutral and enemy interested parties."

This went far toward clearing the ground for an agreement between the two governments.

So far as the Frye note was concerned, officials believed the question at issue, now limited to reparation, will be settled promptly.

In secretary Lansing's absence from the city there will be no further action on the protest against British interference with American sea trade before the last of the week.

The Scythe Has Come Home.

For the information of inquiring friends the editor states here, that the scythe, spoken of two weeks ago as being missing, has been brought home. Mr. Newton, the laundry agent, overtook it somewhere, and captured it, but couldn't use it and brought it home. It is now in C. T. Patton's shop for repairs. When it came home it was considerably shackled and run down at the heel and turned up at the toe, and was so dull you could go to mill on it with no inconvenience.

Wytheville Men Here.

Tazewell had her quota of Wytheville men on yesterday. To begin with there was R. P. Johnson, the machine man—the one man who seems to be generally just right. He sells all sorts of machinery for the roads and saw mills, etc. With him was R. P. Jr., a chip off the old block; Charles Barnitz, selling wire fences, etc. His father used to live at Sharon Springs. And Jo Grenwald, a prominent business man of the bumptious little town of Wytheville, and Lee Umberger, who is a member of the Southern Realty and Auction Company, of Greensboro, N. C. (See the big ad. in this paper.)

District Sunday School Meetings.

A district Sunday school meeting will be held in Thompson Valley tomorrow, July 3rd, beginning at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be served on the grounds. All the schools of the district are expected to send representatives.

Also, at Mt. Olivet, near Gratton, next Saturday week, July 10th, a similar meeting will be held, beginning at 10 a. m. Speakers from town and elsewhere are expected to attend; nearly all schools are expected to be represented. Superintendents and teachers specially requested to be present.

C. R. BROWN, Pres., Co. S. S. Ass'n. J. A. LESLIE, Sec'y.

Later—The Thompson Valley meeting for tomorrow, has been postponed to a future date, owing to pressure of business in harvest. Another date will be fixed. The meeting at Mt. Olivet will be held as announced above.

VISITORS FROM KANSAS.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Brown, of Kansas City, Kansas, reached Tazewell last week for an extended visit to relatives and friends in the county.

Mrs. J. H. Cooper, of Bristol, and Mrs. H. W. Crockett, of Princeton, W. Va., were here also. The object, primarily, of the gathering of these scattered members of the Brown family, was to visit the aged mother, Mrs. Zerilda Brown, who has been ill at the home of her son, Jeff Brown, in the Cove. Mrs. Brown is reported better.

Automobile Club to be Organized.

A meeting is hereby called of all the automobile owners of the county, to meet in the Court House at 3 p. m. tomorrow, Saturday, for the purpose of organizing an automobile club. All owners and drivers of cars are invited to be present.

COMMITTEE.

LOCAL NEWS.

S. J. Thompson was here on Wednesday, as was also Mrs. John Smith, of Thompson Valley, and Mrs. Hugh Brown, of the Cove.

Mrs. Geo. W. St. Clair, Miss Turk, Miss Minnie and Mr. Ewing Lawson, Miss Margaret and Katherine, of Houston St. Clair, motored to Wytheville the first of the week for a visit. They are expected home tomorrow.

Miss Mary Harman, who has been visiting relatives at Saltville, returned to her home here yesterday.

Mr. V. L. Stephenson has just completed a fine job of roofing on the house of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown. The roof is said to be one of the best in town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. F. White, Richlands, reached town on yesterday. Mrs. White is recovering her usual vigor and strength after a long and severe illness. She will remain here several days the guest of relatives.

Miss Annie Litz, and her little sister, Lash, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Litz, enjoyed visits away from home—one, Miss Annie, to Columbus, Ohio, and the other to Welch, W. Va. Miss Georgie Litz returned with her cousin, Miss Annie, and is now enjoying the summer in Tazewell.

"Uncle Jimmie" Hoback, the blind musician, had a fall last Monday morning, which bruised him up considerably about the head and face. He was coming down a pair of steps, and got in "some kind of a twist" he said, and brought up out in the street against the rocks. He was not seriously hurt.
